

Hi sisters! I hope you all are doing well in this time uncertainty.

I have chosen the following talk from general conference. I hope you will study and ponder it.

Think about how it could apply in your own life. I know as you do this, you will be guided in what the Lord wants you to do.

I know that our Heavenly Father loves you. He knows each and every one of us and he knows our needs. He is there for us.

SATURDAY MORNING

"An Especially Noble Calling"

By Joy D. Jones, Primary General President

"Women's continuing roles in the Restoration."

"Throughout history, women have beheld a distinctive place in our Heavenly Father's plan... As wives, mothers, grandmothers, sisters, aunts, as teachers, leaders, and as exemplars and devout defenders of the faith."

I feel that the times we're in, we're needed more than ever to be devout defenders of our faith.

"Live up to our privilege."

"President Spencer W. Kimball explained that being a righteous woman during the winding up scenes on this earth before the Second Coming is an especially noble calling. Our influence is felt more strongly than during tranquil times."

"President Nelson has challenged us to step forward in our homes and in the Church."
Sister, how can you step forward in your home and in the church?

"You don't progress without effort. The Lord loves effort, and effort brings rewards."

We labor under difficulties.

We turn to the scriptures to receive wisdom to act.

When times are rough, please remember to turn to the scriptures. They can and will help you in ways you may have never experienced.

We demonstrate our faith and trust in God.

At times it is hard to trust God. I have a testimony that if we trust him, things will work out. It may not be how we wanted or imagined but things will work out.

We exert our power to plead with God to help us thwart the adversary's influence.

We offer up the desires of our hearts to God.

We focus on His light guiding our life choices and resting upon us when we turn to Him.

We realize He knows each of us by name and has individual roles for us to fulfill.

I know he has a plan for each of us and a role to fulfill. I've been asking lately, what role do you have for me to fulfill? How can I better fulfill this role? If I'm already fulfilling this role, how can I be better at it?

"Joseph Smith taught his wife to lay aside the things of this world, and seek for the things of a better. To cleave unto covenants with God."

"Ask the Father in Christ's name in faith, believing that you shall receive, and you shall have the Holy Ghost, which manifesteth all things which are expedient. As we attain a greater degree of proficiency at doing so, we can receive more power in our individual roles to minister and accomplish the work of salvation and exaltation."

"We have access to priesthood power to assist us, by living up to our covenants and by working with our husbands who hold the priesthood in righteousness. We also have one another to invite the Spirit's influence."

"Elder James E. Talmage reminded us that the world's greatest champion of women and womanhood is Jesus Christ."
